Residential Substance Abuse Services/OASAS Residential Redesign – Addictions Care Center of Albany, Keith Stack, CEO	K. Stack, CEO of ACCA has contracts with OASAS and Warren County for two Residential programs (women’s & men’s). He informed the subcommittee that they are hoping to close on 79 Glenwood Avenue (women’s program) at the end of October early November; the site approval is scheduled for October 15 th with possible renovations starting in December and targeted opening for mid-2019. They will provide 24/7/365 medical management (RN, LPN, Case Managers, Licensed Mental Health Counselor); as well as medication assisted therapies, family counseling, vocational/educational services, peer support services and health and wellness activities. This will be an 18-bed residence. Under the new regulations, which is part of the NYS OASAS Residential redesign, there are three new levels of care: Stabilization, Rehabilitation and Re-Integration. In the Stabilization element of care (72 hours to 7 days) women will benefit from management of mild to moderate symptoms of withdrawal and cravings through medically supervised withdrawal services, engagement in the treatment and early stage recovery process. They will receive assessment of mental health needs, medication management, as well as assessment of medical and physical health needs for wellness and chronic disease management. In the Rehabilitation element of care (28 days-51 days) women will benefit from continued management of craving symptoms, engagement in treatment and recovery rehabilitation. They will receive assessment of mental health needs, medication management, and assessment of medical and physical health needs for wellness and chronic disease management. The Reintegration element of care is essentially on-site supportive living; providing more staff, peer supports and community based supports. This is the hardest element of care to manage even though it is the lowest level of care.	N/A

MH Outpatient Clinic Open Access project updates	C. Wright provided updates on the Open Access project. This is a joint proposal coordinated by the Office of Community Services for Warren and Washington Counties, funded through Adirondack Health Institute and DSRIP Innovation Grant funds. This project encompasses both Adult and Children clinic services at the Warren-Washington Association for Mental Health (Caleo Counseling Services) and Glens Falls Hospital Outpatient Clinics. Project Goals include providing immediate client access to OP services, establishing performance measures and outcomes, a focused data collection effort, development of specific clinical reports, development of a community-wide coordinated intake effort (possibly at OCS), and establishing an on-going clinic operations workgroup. The successful implementation of this project will enable the clinics involved to provide immediate access to outpatient mental health services, improve client engagement in care, increase revenue, and provide data-driven results in a value-based health care system. These changes will be demonstrated through the use of reliable reports that support Continuous Quality Improvement (CQI) and Utilization Management (UM) practices. The success of this model will continue to be measured by a reduction in the number of clients on appointment wait lists and a reduction in the average wait time for clients seeking initial appointments at each of these sites. R. York stated he would like to bring the Clinics to the meeting early in the year to update us on how Open Access is coming along.	N/A

He introduced Laura Walters, Family specialist and Leslie Brownell, Program Assistant. He hopes to come back early next year to provide another update.	N/A
DSRIP updates – Adirondack Health Institute (AHI)	R. Evansky stated that the last round of Innovation funds is pending. They did just get a 1-year grant for a Rural Community Opioid Planning Initiative. More to come as it moves forward and also in the AHI Informer newsletter..	N/A
